

Premier League District Cup 2017

---

Under par Leeds.

After the success of winning the tournament the previous week hopes were high for the A team, but alas it wasn't to be.

The Leeds team dominated the first match against Chester-Le-Street. Chances to go ahead were numerous. Charlie Whittingham hit the post twice. Shots from Alfie Bradshaw, George Sebine and a header from Noah Gill also failed to find the net. The game finished in a frustrating 0 - 0 draw.

The following three matches against York, Darlington and Washington didn't see Leeds find their winning form, or indeed the back of the net. The team didn't lack energy or endeavour with Dickinson and Cadena pushing up the left and McDonnell and Mills up the right. Grumley and McGawn held the midfield well, with the later creating a good opportunity against York that unfortunately didn't convert.

Excellent cover tackles from Ethan Weaver helped keep the losses to a minimum, along with a confident one handed save from keeper Harvey Collinson. There were two strong runs from Aidan Durkin against Washington which glimmered with opportunity, but again luck wasn't on our side and we didn't find the net.

A goal was conceded in each game and the short format time frames didn't give us the chance to strike back, final scores 0-1 in each.

No doubt the boys will bounce back and recapture the form we have seen from them earlier in the season.
